Special Features

Fulbright East Asia Pacific Regional Travel Program

Fulbright Scholars in the East Asia and Pacific (EAP) region have the opportunity to apply for funds to support short-term (3-14 days) travel to other countries in the EAP region for activities such as lectures, workshops, graduate or faculty seminars, master classes or recitals, curricular advising or panel presentations. EAP Regional Travel Program funding covers transportation only. Regional Travel Program activities/host sites should not be included in the initial Fulbright application. Scholars may pursue invitations for short-term activities in other EAP countries once notified that they have been selected for a Fulbright grant, and may only apply for travel program funds once they have actively started their Fulbright grant in their host country. Scholars on Flex grants are not eligible for the regional travel grant.

Degree Requirements

Ph.D. (or other terminal degree) required

Additional Qualification Information

Applicants must have a terminal degree in the same discipline of their project.

Applicants must also have at least three years of university or college teaching experience beyond their terminal degree. Teaching at a community college counts toward the required three years. A teaching assistantship does not qualify.

Applicants residing in Japan are not eligible to apply.

Additional Language Requirement

All teaching will be in English; additional language proficiency is not required.

Invitation Requirement

A letter of invitation should not be sought

Additional Comments

While academic-year appointments are preferred, one semester appointments are possible. Grant dates are firmly fixed. Changes to the grant dates are not possible because of nature of teaching credit-bearing courses. Most teaching will involve a dual affiliation at accredited four-year universities. Grantees will be required to attend a two-day group orientation, as well as a mid-year conference in Tokyo.
