Award Activity

Teaching and Teaching/Research Grants: Teach undergraduate and graduate courses in the applicant's area of specialization. Teaching scholars should teach regular courses as well as to conduct seminars or workshops, consult on curriculum program development, assist with thesis advising and faculty training, and help develop innovative pedagogies. Generally, two full graduate or undergraduate courses should be offered per semester. Teaching schedules will be discussed between Fulbright scholars and their institutional hosts.

For projects that incorporate a research element, the division of responsibilities between the two activities should be 60%-70% teaching and 40%-30% research.

Research Grants: Fulbright Scholars will be expected to conduct research in the area of specialization and give occasional lectures or seminars.

Other activity: The IIE/Kyiv Office works with the Scholars to engage them in guest lecturing activities and public presentations at other local universities, non-academic programs, and with local experts and think tanks as their program and schedule allow.

Scholars selected for this grant will be required to attend a mandatory pre-departure orientation in the United States (summer 2022) and an in-country orientation in Kyiv (September 2022).
