Additional Qualification Information

Academic candidates must be appropriately qualified at Associate or Full Professor. Professional applicants must have an undergraduate degree and at least 10 years relevant work experience within their field of proposed research.

Following the peer review ^[1] process, short-listed applicants will be invited to a video interview with a Fulbright Selection Committee in Australia.

Those who are permanent residents of Australia, dual citizens of the United States and Australia, or living in Australia at the time of application are not eligible for the Fulbright Program with Australia.

Invitation Requirement

A letter of invitation is required.

Additional Comments

Project Statement: To qualify for the Fulbright Future Scholarships program, applicants must include within their project statement an impact statement identified with its own header.

The impact statement must outline the potential impact of their proposed program on the health, prosperity and livelihoods of Americans and Australians, and must have its own header of Potential Impact.

'Impact' may be defined as:

- Significant advancement of new technologies, techniques, or other novel research with potential for practical outcomes;
- Tangible effect, benefit, or outcome for Australian and American society;
- Creation of enduring bilateral commercial or research partnerships with potential for significant growth;
- Novel approaches to medical treatment or rehabilitation;
- Potential for job-creation
