Teaching/Research

Application Deadline
Wednesday, September 15, 2021

Award Activity
Conduct research, teach or a combination of teaching and research in any field at an appropriate host institution in Belgium.

Award Length
Three to nine months

Award Dates
Grants must occur between September 2022 and June 2023. As many grantees apply for only one semester (i.e., three to five months) of funding, scholars who wish to spend an academic year (i.e., nine months) in Belgium should justify the need for this duration in their application.

Locations
Scholars are welcome to submit applications affiliated with any appropriate institution in Belgium, including accredited universities and university colleges, governments, think tanks, and non-profit organizations. Applicants should keep in mind the regional and linguistic divisions in Belgium when identifying locations for their research, and are encouraged to consider affiliations throughout the country (not just in the capital). The Fulbright Commission seeks to promote diversity among applicants, including geographic and linguistic diversity of placements.

Flex Option
No

Discipline Type
Applications are sought in all disciplines

Degree Requirements
Ph.D. (or other terminal degree) required

Additional Language Requirement
Proficiency in French, Dutch or German is helpful, but not required.
Invitation Requirement
A letter of invitation is preferred.

Additional Comments

For more information about this particular award or for help in obtaining a letter of affiliation, interested applicants should consider contacting the Fulbright Commission in Brussels at info@fulbright.be. Please note that the responsibility of obtaining a visa for long-term stay in country lies with the applicant, not the Fulbright Commission staff. Grantees should therefore carefully look into visa issues beforehand and start the application as soon as possible after notification of a grant award.
