Activity Type
Teaching/Research

Application Deadline
Wednesday, September 15, 2021

Award Activity

Teach two undergraduate or graduate courses, or a combination of both, per semester in field of specialization. Since a normal load for Fulbright teaching grantees in Japan is four courses, this reduced teaching load allows grantees to conduct research on a topic of their choice. Courses meet usually once a week for 90-105 minutes. The research project should be consistent with the grantee's area of expertise and the project should be feasible, especially with regard to language, time and venue constraints. The proposal must also make clear why residence in Japan is essential to undertake the research.

Award Length
5 or 10 months

Award Dates
5-month (1-semester) grant: mid-September 2022 – mid-February 2023, or mid-March 2023-mid-August 2023

10-month (2-semester) grant: mid-September 2022 – mid-July 2023. Grant can be extended to cover final exam period if exams are scheduled after the original grant period.
Locations
Any appropriate institution. Affiliation to be finalized by the Japan-U.S. Educational Commission.

Flex Option
No

Discipline Type
Applications are sought in all disciplines

Special Features

Fulbright East Asia Pacific Regional Travel Program
Fulbright Scholars in the East Asia and Pacific (EAP) region have the opportunity to apply for funds to support short-term (3-14 days) travel to other countries in the EAP region for activities such as lectures, workshops, graduate or faculty seminars, master classes or recitals, curricular advising or panel presentations. EAP Regional Travel Program funding covers transportation only. Regional Travel Program activities/host sites should not be included in the initial Fulbright application. Scholars may pursue invitations for short-term activities in other EAP countries once notified that they have been selected for a Fulbright grant, and may only apply for travel program funds once they have actively started their Fulbright grant in their host country. Scholars on Flex grants are not eligible for the regional travel grant.

Degree Requirements
Ph.D. (or other terminal degree) required

Additional Qualification Information
Applicants may be Japan specialists or nonspecialists who wish to pursue comparative research in their fields.

Applicants must have at least three years of university or college teaching experience beyond their terminal degree. Teaching at a community college counts toward the required three years. A teaching assistantship does not qualify. Applicants in the arts, including creative writing, must have an institutional affiliation in the United States.

Individuals who are living in Japan are not eligible to apply.

Additional Language Requirement
All teaching will be in English.

For research, Japanese language fluency sufficient to complete the research project is required. Teaching/research applicants must submit the Language Proficiency Report: Self Evaluation and Language Proficiency Report: External Evaluation. Native speakers need only to complete the Language Proficiency Report: Self Evaluation. Applicants without Japanese language skills should explicitly address the issue in their discussion of the feasibility of the project in their project proposal.

Invitation Requirement
A letter of invitation is required.

Additional Comments
Grantees will be required to attend a two-day group orientation, as well as a mid-year conference in Tokyo. Grant dates are firmly fixed. Changes to the grant dates are not possible due to nature of teaching credit-bearing courses.
